

SCS Academic Year Calendar

SCS is accredited, therefore, Texas Education Code 25.081 states we must provide at least 75,600 minutes of required instruction for students.

Calendar Considerations:

- Provide as many 4-day school weeks as possible throughout the school year. It is the vision of SCS to reserve most Fridays for families so that they may choose to take part in extracurricular activities, time out of town, or time at home with one another. To meet the required minutes of instruction, some Fridays may be added as instructional days. There is an attempt made to add those Fridays during months that immediately follow or precede extended breaks when possible. Required school days are marked blue on the school calendar.
- Offer as many Friday Care days as possible for our working elementary families who have no other placement on Fridays. There is limited staff available, and spots are reserved on a first-come-first-serve basis following an approval process. These days are marked orange on the school calendar.
- Coordinate Spring Break and extended breaks with those of larger area school districts to help our SCS families who work in those districts, when possible. School holidays and extended breaks are marked pink on the school calendar.
- If no weather day is needed, the Easter holiday is reserved as a four-day weekend.
- Although not required, it is our pleasure to provide opportunities for growth for the SCS Staff and Faculty. Staff Development days are assigned throughout the school year to allow for training and/or planning time for all staff. These days are marked in yellow on the school calendar.
- As a ministry of Southcrest Baptist Church, SCS will support partnership regarding the coordination of church activities and the shared use of classrooms, large meeting spaces, and staff.

The SCS Calendar is researched, created, edited, and revised by the SCS administrators and leaders. Final approval by the Southcrest Christian School Board will take place by January 31st and the final school-day calendar will be published in the school newsletter in February.

The process of developing an events calendar will begin ASAP; however, shared building space, reservations of gyms, staff considerations, resources, etc. contribute to the fluidity of scheduling events. Every effort possible is made to secure dates for school-wide events and all dates are subject to change.

Thank you for your grace and understanding as we plan for the upcoming school year. As always, EVERY decision is made following prayer. May God continue to bless Southcrest Christian School.
